Aladdin comedy video

Won 2 Oscars. Another 31 wins & 22 nominations. More Awards » Learn more Edit Aladdin is a poor street urchin who spends his time stealing food from the market square in the city of Agrabah. His adventures begin when he meets a young girl who happens to be Princess Jasmine, who is forced to be married by her crazy but estranged father. Aladdin's happiness suddenly changes when he retrieves a magical lamp from the Cave of Miracles. What he unknowingly gets is a fun-loving genius who only wants his freedom. Little do they know that Sultan Jafar's sinister adviser has his own plans for both Aladdin and lamp. This leaves one of the sequels, Aladdin and the King of Thieves (1996), when Aladdin's father Cassim is the leader of the forty thieves. More » If Jafar had the ability to hypnotize the Sultan with his snake stick, why did he even need the magic lamp? Essentially, he already had control of the kingdom, as he could easily hypnotize the sultan to do whatever he wanted. Instead of exploiting a loophole in the law to force the sultan to give him Jasmine's hand in marriage, Jafar could simply hypnotize Jasmine and order her to accept his marriage proposal. While it is possible that the snake staff had certain limitations (it only works on one person or for a short time, etc.), these forces are poorly defined as the film stands.
